Getting citations and reference lists correctly done can be very confusing and time-consuming.

BibGuru

BibGuru is developed by the team at Paperpile. Founded in 2013 by former researchers from MIT, Paperpile is a full-fledged reference management solution used by tens of thousands of researchers worldwide.

BibGuru helps you to focus on the content of your work instead of worrying about how to get your reference list done correctly.

By using this machine researchers and students do not waste their time entering data manually or lose grades on incorrect bibliographies.
